

VIC/TAS Networking Breakfast #3

"Market Forces on Supply Chain for 2019 and Beyond"

Wednesday, 15 May 2019

Compared to "trophy" office skyscrapers, warehouses and distribution centers were once the ugly ducklings of commercial real estate. Fast forward a decade and they are emerging as beautiful swans for both real estate investors and corporate occupiers. Low vacancy rates and high demand for warehouse space are forming perfect conditions for the sector in 2019

E-commerce activity is really driving the industrial sector's success – our next breakfast event takes us to the role of property or real estate in the supply chain and logistics industry. The location, size & type of a warehouse has a significant affect on a businesses strategy and capability to reach their customer in a fast & efficient manner.

Please join us on the 15th of May to hear from an industry leading professional in this field, ask questions and network with industry peers.
