SUPPLY CHAIN AND LOGISTICS

THURSDAY 28TH FEBRUARY 2019

In the increasingly complex task of managing the supply chain of tomorrow, blockchain technology, which ensures transparency, traceability and security, is showing promise for easing some of the global supply chain management problems.

SCLAA is excited to announce our first thought leadership event of 2019. Find out what blockchain technology can do for you in your profession and your business. The SCLAA has lined up five industry-leading professionals in the blockchain space. Together they will take us through what we can expect from this technology in 2019 and beyond.
